

you are the same

when i feel alone - i can go away to a place i know - where i see your face when the day is old - when the sun has set in your hands alone - can my needs be met you know my voice - you know my name yesterday today and tomorrow - you are the same when i say today i love you then tomorrow let you down when i tell you you're the king and then i try to take your crown when the things i do are different than the promises i've made your love for me never changes when the well is dry - when i'm out of steam you revive my heart - and you restore the dream and when there's nothing left - in this world to do i can close my eyes - find sweet rest in you you're the same - you are the same
